MAY BE FAST IN ICE

Bark Alkaline Has Been Missing Since List October.

MUCH ANXIETY IS FELT

Supposed To Have Been Caught in the Ice While Working Away from the West Coast of Greenland—Vessels in Search for Alkaline.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 25.—Frozen in the ice fields of the north the Philadelphia bark Alkaline lies beyond reach of mails and telegraphs while anxious friends and relatives of the crew wait for news of their loved ones.

The Alkaline was caught in the ice last October while working away from the west coast of Greenland, bound for Copenhagen and Philadelphia. She carries a cargo of cryolite and is commanded by Captain Jensen of this city. The crew of twelve men were also shipped from this port.

The ship left Ivigtut on Oct. 4, but owing to the ice, put into a harbor further south on Oct. 17, since which time she has not been heard from.

It is believed that Captain Jensen found the ice barrier impenetrable, as the season was late in the season, and decided to put back to Ivigtut, where there is a good harbor, and go into winter quarters and remain there until the spring.

The Danish company which controls the cryolite mines in Greenland will send the steamers Fox and Ivigtut to the north in April to ascertain what has become of the Alkaline.

PHYSICIAN'S DISCOVERY.

Gasoline-Driven Automobiles Responsible for a New Malady.

"New York, Feb. 25.—"The gasoline driven automobile has added a new disease to the woes of civilization—a disease which may cut ten years off the life of the persons afflicted. I would call it 'automobile disease,' and have discovered that not only in New York, in streets frequented by such motor cars, but in Paris, London and Berlin, it also exists."

Henry Becker, a physician, made this statement after conducting clinics for nearly a year on patients suffering from the new malady, which affects the tissues of the throat and lungs, causing congestion and decay of the lungs, causing a working area for the bacilli of consumption, pneumonia, grip and other affections peculiar to the respiratory organs.

"Some device should be used," said the doctor, "to absorb the fumes from gasoline machines, as they endanger daily thousands of lives daily, especially those of the traffic squad policemen."

"As a soldier, I deeply sympathize with General Stoessel. I cannot bear to hear any view's."

SHOT POLICE CHIEF.

Negro Desperado Narrowly Escaped Lynching at Hands of Mob.

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 25.—James H. Benton, chief of police of Fayetteville, N. C., was shot and killed early Saturday afternoon by a negro. The murderer, Sam Murchison, was captured an hour after the crime, and despite three distinct efforts to lynch him, was safely lodged in jail.

At the direction of the governor, the local militia company was placed on guard at the jail, though no further trouble is apprehended.

Murchison quarreled with one of his own race and shot his antagonist, inflicting a slight wound. Chief Benton started out in search of Murchison, and after a few words, the negro drew his pistol and shot the officer through the head.

An unusual circumstance of the tragedy is that it is the second time within a year that Fayetteville has lost a police chief at the hands of desperate negroes. Less than a year ago Chief of Police Chesson and one of his officers were shot by a negro desperado.

All of the men arrested were held in bail to appear in court to answer charges which will be preferred against them by the society.

KILLED AT THE ALTAR

Priest Slain by Anarchist While Administering Sacrament.

MURDERER WAS CAPTURED

One of the Most Outrageous Crimes in the History of the Country Occurred in St. Elizabeth Catholic Church at Denver, Colo.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 25.—Father Leo Heinrichs was shot and killed on Sunday by Giuseppe Guarnaccto, an avowed anarchist and priest-hater, while the priest was administering the sacrament at early mass in St. Elizabeth's Catholic church, this city.

Kneeling at the altar rail, between two men, Guaranaccto pressed the muzzle of a revolver against the body of the priest, after receiving from him the consecrated water, and shot the priest through the heart.

Exclaiming, "My God! My God!" Father Leo fell prone in front of the altar and died.

The assassin sprang into the aisle, brandishing his pistol, dashed to the church door. For a moment the hundred or more persons in the church were dazed. Then a woman screamed, and the congregation became panic-stricken. Several men, including Patrolman Daniel Cronin, started in pursuit of the murderer. Policeman Cronin overtook the fleeing Italian on the church steps. Guarnaccto attempted to shoot the policeman, but was foiled and overpowered after a desperate struggle.

The murderer was removed to the city jail. As threats of summary vengeance were made by men who quickly gathered in front of the church, Chief of Police Michael Delaney called out the reserve force of patrolmen.

TRAGEDY WITHOUT PARALLEL.

Killing of Father Heinrichs Has No Record in Church Annals.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 25.—Members of the Catholic priesthood in this city declare there is no record in the history of the church of a tragedy to parallel that of the killing of Father Leo Heinrichs while administering the sacrament to Guiseppe Guaranacco at the altar of St. Elizabeth church Sunday morning.

Never before has a servant of the church been summoned from the performance of his duties in so tragic and dramatic a manner.

This crime will stand out as one of the most fearful in criminal records of the world and its perpetration may result in the elevation of Father Leo to the position of martyr and lead to his canonization as one of the saints of the church in whose service he fell while performing his duty.

Father Eusebius, senior as the pastor of the St. Elizabeth church, received a telegram from Father Provincial in Paterson, N. J., instructing him to forward the body of Father Leo to that city for interment. Father Eusebius will accompany the body to its destination.

Funeral services will be held at St. Elizabeth church at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning when solemn requiem high mass will be celebrated, probably by Father Eusebius.

Father William Ryan, pastor of St. Leo's church, will deliver the eulogy and a sermon against anarchy and socialism.

The funeral services will be attended by 500 members of the Knights of Columbus and the entire body of the Knights of St. John and other Catholic organizations.

NEGRO SHOOTS CONSTABLE.

Brunson Got Out of Buggy To Serve a Warrant When Negro Killed Him.

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 25.—Gagland R. Brunson, a constable, was killed near Dillon, Marion county, by a negro whom he was attempting to arrest.

Constable Brunson had previously arrested a negro and was taking him to Dillon in a buggy, when he saw a negro for whom he had a warrant driving toward him. The constable alighted to serve the warrant and as he did so, the negro fired three shots into his body. Mr. Brunson then turned and with the assistance of the negro whom he was taking to Dillon got into his buggy, where he died on the way to town. Mr. Brunson's slayer escaped.

Great excitement prevails in Dillon, as Mr. Brunson was very popular and had a large family connection there.

The governor has offered a reward of $100 for the capture of the murderer and this sum has been increased by private subscription.

ROBBERS BIND FAMILY.

Father, Mother and Two Daughters Are Tied.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 25.—Two robbers took possession of the home of Irwin Brooks, aged 65 years, a farmer living in Wyandotte county, Kansas, while the members of the family were bound and kept prisoners in bed.

When Brooks resisted, the robbers shot him in the hand. They then tied his hands and feet and placed him in bed. Mrs. Brooks and two daughters, Emma, aged 22, and Eva, aged 17, were similarly treated.

The robbers ransacked the house and secured $10. They prepared a meal and ate leisurely. They released the older Brooks girl for a time, while she quieted her baby, which began to cry.

After the robbers left, the girls succeeded in releasing themselves and their parents.

6 HURLED TO DEATH

Train Strikes Vehicle Containing Party of Merrymakers.

SIX WERE KILLED OUTRIGHT

Ontario and Western Express Train Ran Down Wagon Containing Nine Young Men and Women at a Grade Crossing Near Spring Valley.

Spring Valley, N. Y., Feb. 25.—A foam-specked pair of horses that tore through the streets early Sunday dragging between them a splintered wagon pole, brought to the village the first news of a grade crossing accident in which nine members of its most prominent families were either killed outright or frightfully injured.

The runaways came to a stop at the livery stable of George Young, from whom they had been hired the night before to take a party of men and girls to a basketball game at Nyack. Returning in the early hours of Sunday, the wagon load of merrymakers was run down at a West Nyack crossing by an Ontario and Western express train. Four of the party were instantly killed, two died while being removed to the Hudson county hospital at Hoboken, N. J., and the other three lie in a serious condition at that institution.

The responsibility for the accident is in dispute. The survivors cannot be questioned as yet, and the only other witness was the crossing gate tender. He claims that the team was driven through the lowered gates. The gate on the side of the approach was broken down, but the opposite gate was intact, and if previously lowered, must have been hurdled by the frightened horses after the wagon had been struck and torn from its pole. The animals were uninjured.

The preacher hopes to have from a dozen to thirty babies present every Sunday.

One of the church parlors has been fitted up as a nursery. It is presided over by forty young women, who work in relays of ten at each service.

Anna Gould, who secured a divorce from the count last year, jointly to pay to Vera Nelidoff, an opera singer, the sum of $24,000 for certain jewels the count purchased from her. Mme. Gould entered the defense that she was an entire stranger to the transaction and had never seen the jewels. The court laid down the principle that the jewels presumably had been purchased for the use of the buyer's wife.

HAD NO MONEY; PUT OFF TRAIN

Sad Predicament of Man With Sick Wife and Two Children.

WERE DESPONDENT AND HUNGRY

But the Good Samaritan in the Person of Dr. Rogers Came to Them, Relieving Them of Suffering—Left on Night Train for Destination.

Despondent, with a sick wife and two small children, both girls, was the plight of a white man who gave his name as Chase, and said he was from Ft. Payne, Ala., as the Atlantic Coast Line train, south-bound, pulled into Gainesville Tuesday.

The plight was all the more sad by reason of the fact that although Ocala was said to be their destination, they had been put off the train here because they had not the money to take them further, and they were hustled into the street, in a strange land and among strangers.

Standing in the street with a look of despair, this unfortunate quartette was huddled together, penniless, friendless, with nothing to appease their hunger, no place to go to rest, after a long and tedious journey full of trouble and hardships.

Relief Finally Came.

The attention of Rev. S. B. Rogers was called to the little crowd and their condition, when he immediately sought them out, took them to a boarding-house and provided for their dinner, supper and lodging. This having been attended to, Dr. Rogers then secured transportation for Ocala, and they left on the midnight train Tuesday for their original destination.

This was a distressing story related by Chase, who stated that it had been impossible to secure employment at his home for some time, which brought the family almost to destitution. He had been offered a position on a stock farm near Ocala, and with what little money he had left the family started out for Florida. Being short of funds, and the trip being a long one, the family naturally suffered for the necessities of life, while those about them were living in ease. However, the family felt considerably encouraged after they had found a friend who provided for them, and left the city in better spirits.

In speaking of the matter, Dr. Rogers stated that it was against his principle to see any worthy person suffer, and, at his own expense, there being no funds in the Charity Association treasury, he provided for them, taking chances on securing assistance from the public. He was subjected to an expense of several dollars, and those who desire to reimburse him are given an opportunity to do so.

"This Charity Association is an absolute necessity,' remarked Dr. Rogers, "and it should be supported. It would cost the individual a fraction of nothing, so to speak, but when one person has to provide for charity cases, it comes rather hard."

Dr. Rogers is correct in this assertion that the people should provide at least sufficient funds for relief in such cases as that above referred to.

DUTTON BANK BUILDING.

Contractor Making Rapid Progress in Improvements on Building.

The contractor, with a large force of men, is making fine progress in the alterations and improvements contemplated for The Dutton Bank building, and at the present rate it will not be many weeks before the bank will be enabled to resume business "at the same old stand," but in a new, modern, up-to-date building, which will afford every convenience and facility for banking.

In the meantime this old and reliable financial institution is transacting its business affairs in the office of the W. R. Thomas Live Stock Company's stables, where a small but very conveniently arranged bank has been arranged. Only the banking business of the day is transacted here, however, as the money, books and other valuables are locked securely behind the substantial steel doors of the magnificent new vault, which has just been completed in the rear of the bank building.

President W. R. Thomas and the other officers of The Dutton Bank are determined to give their patrons as safe, conservative and modern business as can be found in the United States.

PARKER USED KNIFE.

Stabbed John Gaines in Back and Inflicted Painful Wound.

Tuesday night just before 7 o'clock the corner of West Main street south, and East Liberty street, was the scene of considerable excitement, caused by an altercation between Anthony Parker, Jr., and John Gaines, both colored, in which Gaines received a deep and painful knife wound in the back.

No one seems to know just how the row started, but it is understood that Parker stated Gaines called him a vile name, and when he started to run he stabbed him.

Gaines was taken to a physician to have his wound dressed. Parker was placed under arrest, but was released under a bond of $25 for his appearance in the mayor's court this morning.

CARE OF THE STOMACH.

Indigestion May be Overcome by Simple Treatment.

In the treatment of stomach troubles, the first thing to do is to get the mucous membrane of the stomach and intestines into a healthy condition.

Next in importance comes a strengthening and stimulation of the muscles of the stomach and bowels.

Both results can be accomplished by the use of Mi-o-na stomach tablets, a combination of healing remedies for the raw and irritated mucous membrane and strengtheners for the stomach muscles.

Mi-o-na is not a mere digestive remedy, but is an absolute cure for all stomach disorders (except cancer), and is so reliable in its action that J. W. McCollum & Co. sell it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money unless it cures. Every sufferer with stomach troubles should get a 50-cent box and test its virtue on this guarantee, that it will cost nothing unless it cures.

"Buncoed" a Catholic Priest.

Orange, N. J., Feb. 25.—At the services of the Catholic church Sunday Rev. John Boylan told his congregation that he had been "buncoed" with a worthless check which was given him by a young man in payment of the fee for his marriage. The priest said that he had not only lost the amount of the fee, but had been obliged to pay $1.24 protest fees on the check.

The editor of The Memphis (Tenn.) Times writes: "In my opinion Foley's Honey and Tar is the best remedy for coughs, colds and lung trouble, and to my own personal knowledge Foley's Honey and Tar has accomplished many permanent cures that have been little short of marvelous." Refuse any but the genuine in the yellow package.—J. W. McCollum & Co.

The Lucky "SWASTIKA"

Most every man and woman believes in an emblem of some kind or other that is supposed to bring "good luck." Some contend there is no such thing as luck, but this class is the exception and not the rule, as has been proven by the thousands who are now wearing the Swastika in pins, rings and buttons. The Swastika is said to bring long life, peace and prosperity to the wearer, and the cost is little in both silver and gold. Certain it is we have never heard anyone say they bring bad luck, and since it may bring good fortune, why not woo the shiftless old jade, Fate, and get a Swastika? 50c up.

Twentieth Century Club.

A delightful meeting of the Twentieth Century Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. L. Medlin, on East Main street North, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The President, Mrs. John W. Tench, presided during the regular order of business, after which Mrs. Geo. K. Broome took charge and presided during the literary exercises.

Mrs. Thomas P. Hay read a most interesting article on "Rural England."

Mrs. C. L. Crow favored the gathering with instrumental selections from Schumann.

"English Village Life" was beautifully portrayed in an article by Mrs. John M. Taylor.

The program was concluded with an instrumental solo (Dennee Mazurka) by Miss Clara Pound.

One of the most pleasant features of the afternoon was a surprise in the shape of delicious refreshments served by the hostess, Mrs. Medlin, assisted by Mrs. Sam. M. Davis.

There will be no meeting of the club on March 10th, but Mrs. Geo. K. Broome will entertain the club on Monday afternoon, March 24th.

MRS. GEO. P. MORRIS,
Press Correspondent.

He Saw Carrie.

In mentioning the return of J. E. Wainwright from DeLand, where he went to visit his daughter, Miss Julia, and attend the reception tendered by Stetson University to John B. Stetson, Jr., The Sun omitted to mention the fact that Mr. Wainwright also had the opportunity of seeing that world-famous character, the saloon smasher and enemy of tobacco and almost everything else, Carrie Nation.

Mr. Wainwright stated that Carrie was "doing" DeLand, but that she was comparatively quiet in that town, notwithstanding that she was naturally the center of attraction, being followed by great crowds.

Carrie was selling her souvenir hatchets, and they were going like hot ginger cakes at a country fair.

It is stated that Carrie managed to dispose of $1,800 worth of these souvenir hatchets in Tampa at a quarter each. In that event, if she is comparatively successful elsewhere, it is a source of prout to be "cranky."

MOTHERS' MEETING.

That of Monday Was One of the Most Interesting.

The Mothers' meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. G. S. Merchant Monday afternoon was a very pleasant and instructive one. The pleasant parlors were filled with ladies who are interested in this grand work of trying to make home the best place in all the world, and the influence of home such as will fit the children to go out into the world with principles well formed, and the courage to dare to do right.

These meetings are also a help to the mothers and grandmothers in causing them to keep in running order the accomplishments they acquired in youth, but too often neglected by the time they are thirty, and dropped entirely before the age of fifty, feeling that hereafter their part in life is to sit with folded arms and beam on their children and grand-children as they take their places. Our program shows that the women of our "twentieth century" are not shelved when they are sixty, and even older. We first had on our program after our opening hymn and prayer a piano solo very nicely executed by Miss Merchant; a very interesting article read by Mrs. Bailey; a story by Mrs. Dr. Spencer, telling how a mother managed by tact and wisdom to get her boy to drop the pernicious habit of cigarette-smoking; a very pretty duet, well rendered by Mrs. Dr. Robb and her daughter, Mrs. J. A. McKinstry, accompanied on the piano by little Mary McKinstry, making three generations, each one doing their part well; next came a reading by Mrs. Dr. Thomas on Mother's Influence. After this we were given a piano solo by Mrs. W. F. Yocum, and as one watched this lady manipulate the keys one could scarcely believe that she had seen over sixty summers; next came a paper written by Mrs. Patterson, urging, among other things, mothers to keep ever before their boys the fact that they love them, and to tell them so. Mrs. French was presented and gave a short talk on the great responsibilities of mothers, and told a little of her own life, being left with three sons to care for and only her day's work to do it with, and how, with God's promise to the widow and fatherless to help her, she had come safely through. The last number on the program was a pretty little recitation by little Anna Dorsey, "Papa's Letter," which pleased all.

After the program Mrs. Merchant served dainty refreshments to the people and everyone pronounced the meeting one of our best.

THE CEMETERY FENCE.

The fence enclosing Evergreen cemetery is in a very dilapidated condition, and it must be repaired at once. This can only be done through contributions by those interested in the cemetery where the remains of their beloved ones are resting.

The ladies comprising the Cemetery Association have labored earnestly to make the cemetery self-sustaining, but so far they have been unable to accomplish the desired result. They have finished paying off the debt for what is known as the new cemetery, however, and, through the kindness of the City Council in appropriating money to pay the sexton, have accumulated a small sum in the treasury. This amount they desire to have increased sufficiently to enable them to put the fence in condition to keep out the hogs and cattle, and to this end Mesdames F. D. Warner and H. H. McCreary will today call upon the citizens of Gainesville and ask their aid.

The sexton, G. W. Perry, is a hard-working man, and although he only receives $35 per month for himself and horse, he keeps the grounds in nice shape and has recently set out a large number of shade trees.

Respond liberally to the request of the ladies in this matter, and should they fail to see you in person send your contribution to Mrs. F. D. Warner or Mrs. H. H. McCreary.

The Times-Union Short Talks editor says: "Winter gives a parting squeeze to his beloved lands to the north of us and we shiver a bit, but a Florida sun rises out of the Gulf stream and spring comes with the morning, riding on his beams."

All of the Muchrich family in New York deny stoutly borrowing any money from Hetty Green. But they have not yet explained whether it was because they wouldn't or couldn't.

The reduction of the Philippine Tariff has been shelved in Congress through the efforts of the sugar and tobacco trusts, and yet people believe they are fighting the trusts.

The voyage of the battleship squadron so far has been a great success. But the public is just as much in the dark as ever about why it was originally decided on.

Mr. Bryan says that the President has no copyright on honesty. No, but he has a monopoly of about 95 per cent of it in the party he is now connected with.

Leslie M. Shaw says he favors J. P. Morgan for the Presidency. But it is to be understood that this is distinctly a second choice with Mr. Shaw.

If Secretary Taft should be elected it would be a fine scheme for him to give Mr. Roosevelt a job as his traveling commissioner.

The Sultan of Turkey seems to have heard and fully appreciated the story about letting the other man walk the floor.

Champ Clark is of the opinion that he would make a pretty good speaker for the next Democratic House.

ONLY ONE MEDIUM.

The Brooksville Argus, an ardent supporter of the Broward administration, correctly sums up the present situation in Florida politics as follows:

It is an anomalous state of affairs to have a party to call itself Democratic and yet have no way provided for the people to express their sentiments except through the medium of office-holders and office-seekers. Under present conditions the people are only called up to decide between contestants who shall hold the offices. That the masses may have views and wishes to express aside from their choice of office-seekers does not appear to have entered into the minds of those who devised the present system of party management.

The Apalachicola Times makes the following pertinent comment upon the Argus' statement of the case:

The Argus has not forgotten the days when the party assembled in convention and adopted a platform of principles. The adoption of the primary—a free-for-all fight in which the personality of the candidate plays an important part—has changed this condition, and there are many men who are not satisfied with the change. Primaries are expensive luxuries and frequently the poor but deserving man is debarred from office-seeking on account of the expense he must incur if he is a candidate.

Primary politics depends—not so much upon the pole that reaches for the persimmon, but upon the length of the candidate's purse, hence party principles are becoming obsolete and the dollar replaces the fundamentals of democracy.

Bros. Russell and Johnston have correctly sized up the present situation in Florida. The Democratic party of the State is without a decalogue of principles and the sole issue is "office." The State committee which met in Jacksonville on the 11th inst. should have called a State convention to nominate Presidental electors, select delegates to the National convention and adopt a platform of principles, but it is evident that the powers that be are afraid to trust delegates selected by Democrats with such matters.

CONTROLLED BY THE FEW.

Senator LaFollette says that seventy-six men, holding 1600 directorships in the great business concerns of the country, control the business of the nation, and that the railroads are controlled by eight men. No wonder the last Republican National Convention refused Senator LaFollette a seat in that convention, and that there is an evident conspiracy to keep him out of the coming convention. The Republican machine does not allow such home thrusts to be made by those labeled Republicans.

"The jumping off place for the United States," says The Times-Union, is now Knight's Key. The new road is wonderful and picturesque—a show in itself, a lesson in history, a dream and a fairy story. But don't you forget that from New York to San Francisco in time of need the route by the East Coast via the Panama railway shortens the line by 3,000 miles, that a line is offered for all Eastern freight and at the terminus of the Florida road steamships from China, Japan and the Philippines will first offer the weary passenger a sight of home with lines radiating in every direction from Jacksonville to his destination.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury,

As mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and it is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

HIGH TRUST PRICES.

The holding up of the price of steel products by the trust checks consumption and real recovery of business, while lower prices would stimulate orders and start idle plants. But the steel trust, highly protected as it is by the tariff, thinks it can worry along until business revives, and refuses to reduce the price of its product. Thus every piece of farm machinery, every tool for workingman or farmer, and everything else into which steel enters, has to pay tribute to the trusts. While pig iron has declined 30 per cent from the recent high level, yet steel, which is the chief form of iron now used, is still maintained at the top notch. Such is one of the advantages of the Republican policy of tariff protection. That whereas the trust is protected everyone else must suffer.

One of the good things about the candidacy of General Gilchrist is that he has the newspaper instinct in him and furnishes such beautiful type-written copy for the press. It may not be available for publication in every instance, but at least it shows him to be an up-to-date man, quick to utilize modern facilities for the spread of intelligence. General Gilchrist and his "fidus Achates," Editor Jordan of The Punta Gorda Herald, are two highly interesting figures in the pending campaign, hardly spectacular, but always attractive, and there is a charm in the utter loyalty between them almost unique in this hard, grasping age. The General and this eloquent organ are making a noble fight and if they go down in defeat, which now seems probable, it will be a spectacle to paint a moral and adorn a tale for many long years to come in Florida politics. And we are saying this in no flippant or ironical spirit, for there is really something impressive, almost ideal, in the relations of Brother Jordan and his candidate, rarely seen in modern politics.—Pensacola Journal

Hon. H. A. B. McKenzie, editor of The Palatka Times-Herald, has yielded to the solicitation of numerous friends and consented to stand for re-election to the Legislature. Mr. McKenzie represented the people of Putnam county ably and conscientiously during the last session, and The Sun would be pleased to see him re-elected.

Of course those questions to Mr. Harriman will be couched in polite language, but boiled down they will simply amount to "where did you get it?"

Surgeon Dies of Blood Poison.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 25.—Dr. I. R. Trimble, a well known surgeon, died here Sunday night of blood poisoning. He was infected while performing an operation on Feb. 10, and in spite of all precautions and several operations, his life could not be saved. Dr. Trimble was professor of anatomy in the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

DELIGHTFUL CARD PARTY.

Mrs. Allen Halle Entertained Many Friends Washington's Birthday.

"The prettiest card party of the season" was the universal verdict of the guests who were fortunate enough to be present at Mrs. Allen Halle's on last Saturday. The date, February 22nd—Washington's birthday—gave opportunity for unique and patriotic decorations, which were taken advantage of to the fullest. A large U. S. flag, loaned by Col. A. P. Morrow, the soil and rents telling the tale of service in action, was draped across the hall, and long streamers of the red, white and blue, intertwined and festooned over walls and chandeliers, called attention at once to the fact that it was the occasion of a National holiday. A handsome portrait of Gen. Washington occupied a conspicuous position in the front room, and branches of red japonica, with masses of blue violets, were appropriate floral decorations. Flags and festoons of the National colors were everywhere in evidence.

Whist was the game and seven tables displayed as many red hatchets, while a cleft log held twenty-eight smaller weapons, whose flutter of mingled ribbons indicated their peaceful uses as score cards.

Mrs. McCollum was the fortunate winner of the prize, a pretty water-color, painted by Mrs. Tharin, one of the guests.

After a pleasant time over the card tables delicious refreshments were served, consisting of quail on toast, each bird masquerading as a small turkey, stuffed with nuts and bearing a miniature flag; celery salad with mayonnaise dressing, beaten biscuits, pickles and cheese, with coffee and whipped cream, ended a most enjoyable afternoon.

Master Allen, the four-year-old son of the hostess, in a black velvet suit, ushered in the guests, and little Miss Kitty Tharin, in rose crepe de Chine and white lace, punched for the card players.

A GUEST.

Neglected Colds Threaten Life.

[From The Chicago Tribune.]

"'Don't trifle with a cold,' is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise from ordinary colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germs of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold." Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The great popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia when it is given. For sale by all druggists.

Pearl Button Industry.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The perpetuation of the pearl button industry in the United States which is now confined to the states of New York and Iowa, is provided for in a favorable report to the house of representatives on a bill to establish a biological and fish cultural station in the second congressional district of the state of Iowa. The action of the committee on fish and fisheries was based on the report of a special committee to investigate fresh water clams from which the buttons are made.

SHOULD LIVE 100 YEARS.

Sir James Crichton Brown's Opinion.

Sir James Crichton Brown of England at the Congress of the Royal Institute of Public Health in London, gave a lecture on old age. He states that if every person should live right and take the proper care, to live one hundred years would be a matter of course.

There is no excuse for feebleness at the age of fifty, sixty, or even seventy. In every person there is a constant change taking place in the system, and just as long as the supply equals or exceeds the waste, just so long will old age be warded off.

When one finds their energies flagging, the organs acting slowly and less effectually, the blood sluggish, and in fact "feels old," then there is nothing known to medicine that will restore elasticity to step, brightness to the eyes, vigor to brain and muscle, and strength to every organ in the body so surely as our read cod liver and iron preparation, Vinol.

Vinol contains in a concentrated form all of the medicinal body-building elements of cod liver oil actually taken from fresh cods' livers, the useless oil eliminated and tonic iron added.

We ask every aged person in Gainesville to try Vinol on our offer to return money if not satisfied.—W. M. Joonson, Druggist Gainesville, Fla.

HATFIELD A FEUD VICTIM.

Man Was Bound to Tree and Left to Perish.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 25.—A special from Louisa says that Thomas Hatfield, of Pike county, who was caught by feud enemies in the mountains along Tug river, in West Virginia, two weeks ago, bound to a tree and left to die of exposure, died at a hospital there, having been found and brought to Louisa from West Virginia.

Hatfield was a member of the Hatfield clan in the famous Hatfield-McCoy feud. It is not known who the men were who tied him to a tree in the woods. Both legs had to be amputated and several fingers were so badly frozen they dropped off.

Was Killed on Street Car

Mobile, Ala, Feb 25.—About 11 o'clock Saturday night H. L. Riley, a street car conductor, shot and killed Heustis George, a white man, who operates a pool room at Plateau, on the Magazine Point car, at the Southern railway crossing. George is claimed to have threatened the conductor earlier in the night. George died instantly. Mrs. Joseph Lockley, white, was wounded by a stray bullet during the firing. Riley was arrested.

What to Do When Bilious.

The right thing to do when you feel bilious is to take a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They will cleanse the stomach and regulate the liver and bowels. Try it. Price, 25 cents. Samples free at all druggists.

Opposition Has Subsided.

San Francisco, Feb 25.—Father D. O. Crowley, who returned with Archbishop P. W. Riordan from Rome on Saturday night, said that he thought the opposition raised in the propaganda of Rome against the appointment of Dr. Hanna to the coadjutator bishopric of San Francisco had practically subsided, and that Dr. Hanna's appointment would be made March 13.

Financial Worry Led to Suicide.

London, Feb. 25.—J. C. Davidon, a well known broker, who dealt mostly in American railroad securities, committed suicide by shooting at his home in Dulwich, a suburb of this city, on Sunday. He at one time conducted a large business, which recently had fallen off. Worry over financial matters is given as the cause of the suicide.

New York, Feb. 25.—Except in the event of some very important developments nothing much better than the recent professional tendencies may be looked for in the market for a few days. Traders are disinclined to extend their commitments very much during a period of such a dull trading. There is no inducement for outsiders to buy, and the list observes a gradual downward tendency under the influence of small amount of liquidation appearing in one issue or another wherever betterment is noted.

Ruling on Anti-Pass Law.

Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 25.—Judge Sheppard has ordered Tom Williams held for the action of the federal grand jury on the charge of having conspired to violate the anti pass law. Williams claims to have ridden on a pass given him by an employee of the Frisco and sought release by habeas corpus. Judge Sheppard ruled that Williams did not come under the excepted class. It is the first ruling made on the new federal anti pass law.

Was Found Dead in Woods.

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 25.—Charles E. Rogers, a wealthy retired citizen who left his home on Monday last, was found in the woods Saturday evening in a lonely spot, a suicide. The discovery was made by two men who were out hunting at the time. A 32-caliber revolver with one shot exploded was found in the right hand of Rogers, curled up under his body. No cause for the suicide can be assigned other than ill health.

ANTI-JUG BILL PUT ON SHELF.

Prohibition Legislation by Congress Is Not Probable at This Term.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The action of the house judiciary committee in postponing until March 6 further consideration of the various prohibition measures now pending before that committee was a severe blow to the hopes of the cold water advocates. It probably means that no prohibition measure will be passed at this session. It appears the committee is evidently divided on the question of reporting out the bill, but the vote for postponement was 10 to 7.

Mr. Littlefield is dissatisfied with his own bill. While prohibiting shipments of liquor into dry territory, it leaves the gates open for shipment of liquor from Canada, Cuba, Mexico and all foreign territory. Thirsty individuals could still have liquor shipped to them from abroad.

Amendments had been prepared by Mr. Littlefield to cover this defect, but the constitutional question was raised as to whether a ban could be placed upon foreign liquor by one state and its importation permitted into another state.

The whole discussion goes over until March 6. By that time Mr. Littlefield may have another bill in readiness, but the outlook for one to be reported at this session seems hopeless to the anti-saloon people.

NOT WHAT "SHE" SEEMED.

Boy Masqueraded as a "Hello" Girl in Chicago Exchange.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—A dispatch to the Tribune from St. Louis says:

There was consternation among the girls of the Forest exchange of the Bell Telephone company Sunday when it became known that "Helen" Iles, a fellow worker, was a boy in disguise. The secret was brought to light when one of the girls complained to the chief of the exchange, Miss Burns, that "Helen" was not what she seemed.

"Helen" applied for a position five months ago, giving the name of Helen Iles, age 22, of Chicago. A few weeks ago a new operator, whose first name is Margaret, was assigned to the exchange.

"Helen," forgetting his disguise, told Margaret he was a man, and asked her to marry him. Margaret refused, and immediately sought Miss Burns, the result being that "Helen" was discharged from further service.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Florida Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Florida readers.

A. Oerting, seaman, of 419 L. street, Pensacola, Fla., tells how to do it. He says: "From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I can strongly recommend them to anyone in need of a good medicine for the kidneys. Kidney complaint and backache caused me suffering at intervals for years. The first or second attack I did not mind, but as time went by they grew worse and at times laid me up. I could hardly walk and it was a difficult matter to straighten up after stooping, while the kidney secretions were irregular and unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. From personal experience I know that this remedy can be depended upon to fulfill the representations made for it."

BOARDERS IN PANIC.

Oil Lamp Exploded, Setting Fire to a House at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 25.—Three persons were seriously burned and twenty others fled to the street in their night clothing early Monday when an oil lamp in the home of John Gishick, a foreigner, exploded, setting fire to the house.

The lamp fell from its fastenings on the wall, showering Mrs. Gishick with ignited oil. She was fatally burned, while her husband and a boarder were severely injured in extinguishing her blazing clothes.

Twenty boarders, sleeping in upstairs rooms, fled, panic-stricken, and a number were slightly injured in the mix-up.

SPECIAL PRECAUTIONS.

Wrecked B. & O. Train Had in Transit $1,000,000 in Cash.

Pittsburg, Feb. 25.—The hurried dispatch of a special train to the scene of Saturday's wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio at Salisbury Junction was explained when it became known that there were over a million dollars in cash aboard the train.

As soon as word of the accident was received special precautions were taken to guard the money.

While the whole train left the rails and a German professor was injured, the money was not damaged.

CRANKY METAL.

Moods and Mystery That Are Embodied in a Piece of Steel.

A cutlery company will make a hundred razors from the same piece of steel by the same process, and part of the razors will be good and part of them bad. It may be fifty of one kind or seventy-five or twenty-five—nobody knows. The maker doesn't know; the buyer doesn't know. Barbers say that even the price doesn't seem to make much difference. You may get a good razor for a quarter or a bad one for $5. And the same razor will get a contrary edge today, so that you can hardly shave with it, and tomorrow, without additional sharpening, it will work like a charm.

One tap will go on a bolt easily and stay there. Another tap will hardly go on at all. A third may be screwed on tight and snug and yet keep coming off in spite of all that can be done.

Sometimes men that work with machines have a premonition of coming disaster, as do the men that sail on the seas or thread the winding paths of the big woods. Nature as well as pieces of mechanism seems able to communicate to man why they are in a calamitous and threatening mood.—Chicago Tribune.

An Astonishing Airship.

In these days of dirigible balloons, airships and aeroplanes the following account of an airship taken from the London Post for Dec. 22, 1709, is of interest:

"Father Bartholomew Laurent says that he has found out an invention by the help of which one may more speedily travel through the air than any other way, either by land or sea, so that one may go 200 miles in twenty-four hours."

The airship which was to accomplish this astonishing feat had at the top "sails wherewith the air is to be divided, which turn as they are directed." There was a rudder to direct the vessel's course, and the body was "formed at both ends scallopwise. In the cavity of each is a pair of bellows, which must be blown when there is no wind."

Two loadstones, some large amber beads and various other items all had some mysterious part to play in this attempt to traverse the air.

This is perhaps the most extraordinary of all flying machines on record.

WHAT IS A GAS?

Well, Here Is Lord Kelvin's Quaintly Eccentric Definition.

One of the late Lord Kelvin's students at the University of Glasgow writes of some of the old scientist's peculiarities: "To those who attended the natural philosophy class at Glasgow university Lord Kelvin, or, rather, Sir Billy (for to that length our irreverent love of the genial old man would go), is a cherished memory—a memory of a great man who gave 'articulate shape to the thoughts that wander through eternity.' His appeal to our humorous faculties was due partly to some personal peculiarities, partly to the sublimely unconscious use of very familiar objects and extremely colloquial phrases to illustrate his great thoughts on great things. Never blessed with powers of clear enunciation, he had a way of wrestling with certain words and giving them a prolonged rolling intonation that added point to those unintentionally humorous observations which he was ever making and for which, thoughtless yet not wholly unlovable crew that we were, we were ever looking. Let me cite some examples. Lecturing on the nature of a gas one day, Lord Kelvin thus delivered himself: 'Imagine a thousand million students rushing with incredible velocity in one direction and a thousand million students rushing with the same velocity in the opposite direction and meeting. That is a gas.' Doubtless, but the homely simile compelled laughter and at the same time left us both mystified and enlightened.

"But his greatest feat was the playing of a simple tune on a huge trombone. Conceive, if you can, a learned professor of silvered locks and beard, dressed in the black robes of his office and surrounded by scientific instruments, slowly squeezing from a giant trombone some familiar air and you will understand why I have said that Lord Kelvin often made too strong appeal to our sense of the humorous. For himself he was sublimely unconscious of the humorous picture which he presented. He was too intent upon his scientific triumph for the laughter—and it was laughter that literally held both its sides—to reach his ears.

"Lord Kelvin was once in his usual delightfully inconsequent way rambling along and letting his great mind slowly unfold its great thoughts. One of the many subjects on which he touched was the transmission of light from distant worlds. 'Here,' he said, 'I have a calf's foot jelly made by Lady Thomson. Observe the wabbly motion of the jelly [here suiting the word by action]. Gentlemen, for aught we know to the contrary, interstellar space may be one vast calf's foot jelly.'

"He was, as I have said, singularly simple in many of his ways. To successive generations of students he illustrated 'uniform motion in a straight line' in a singularly characteristic fashion. Lame in one leg, he always walked with a most marked limp, yet he illustrated 'uniform motion in a straight line' by hobbling round his rostrum in a circle. I do not believe that he ever knew why his pathetically humorous way of illustrating a simple fact in kinetics made his successive classes 'smile confoundedly loud.'"—Chicago News.

Didn't Seem Fair.

Having finished her afternoon's philanthropic work in the east side tenements, the voluntary helper started for home. Before she had proceeded far, however, she discovered that her purse was gone. So, surmising she had either carelessly mislaid or been robbed of it, she retraced her steps to the tenements. Her search availing nothing, she was about to turn again toward home when a tear stained youth accosted her.

"Say, missus," he sniveled, pointing across the street, where another boy crouched in a hallway to examine something, "if y' 're lookin' fer y' pocketbook, dat kid over dere's got it!"

Acting on this declaration, the lady hurried over and cornered the lad before he was aware of her propinquity. Seeing no chance of escape with the purse and its contents, the boy complied with the lady's demand and handed over.

"Now, my honest lad," she then said, turning to the first boy, who had followed her across, "there's a dollar for pointing out the thief!"

As this boy ran off clutching his reward the second lad squinted hard at the lady.

"Say, missus," he said, "don't I get nothin'?"

"Not a penny!"

"Gee!" he rejoined, in a kind of perplexity, "An' I stole de pocketbook from him!"—Buffalo Times.

NOT MERELY IDLING.

Wherein the Writer Resembled the Man on the Buoy.

"That writer," said a publisher, referring to an author who seemed to be idling away his time, "is in reality trying hard to work, to get his ideas flowing, but he is stuck.

"He said to me himself that he resembled a man who made a bet one summer day at the shore that he would swim out a mile and a half to a certain buoy. The bet was accepted, and the man stripped and plunged in. His friend retired to the hotel to watch his progress from the window.

"From the window with a fieldglass the friend saw the swimmer reach the buoy in due course, draw himself up out of the water and sit down comfortably, with his legs dangling over. So far so good. Evidently he was resting, well pleased with his feat.

"Some minutes passed, and the swimmer had not moved. The watcher returned to his book. But every now and then he looked up, and still the swimmer sat in the same position on the buoy.

"An hour, two hours went by. Still the swimmer remained. A white, slim figure seen against the oncoming dark, he sat on the buoy's edge. His feet dangled in the sea. He seemed to be musing.

"Finally it began to grow quite dark, and, thoroughly alarmed at last, the watcher got a boat and a couple of bargees and rowed out to his friend.

"Out there the mystery was soon explained. The man was stuck fast to the buoy, which had been freshly tarred that morning."—Washington Star.

MEN OF EARLIER AGES.

Were They the Mental Peers of the Men of Today?

The general idea that our enormous advances in science and command over nature serve as demonstrations of our mental superiority to the men of earlier ages is totally unfounded. The evidence of history and of the earliest monuments alike goes to indicate that our intellectual and moral nature has not advanced in any perceptible degree. In the second place, we find that the supposed great mental inferiority of savages is equally unfounded. The more they are sympathetically studied the more they are found to resemble ourselves in their inherent intellectual powers.

Even the so long despised Australian savages, almost the lowest in material progress, yet show by their complex language, their social regulations and often by an innate nobility of character indications of a very similar inner nature to our own. If they possess fewer philosophers and moralists, they are also free from so large a proportion of unbalanced minds—idiots and lunatics—as we possess. On the other hand, we find in the higher Pacific types men who, though savages as regards material progress, are yet generally admitted to be physically, intellectually and morally our equals, if not our superiors. * * * Thirdly, we have no proof whatever that even the men of the stone age were mentally or morally inferior to ourselves.—Alfred Russel Wallace in Fortnightly Review.

Even from the Mountains

Ballard's Snow Liniment is praised for the good it does. A sure cure for rheumatism and all pains. Wright W. Loving, Grand Junction, Colo., writes: "I used Ballard's Snow Liniment last winter for rheumatism and can recommend it as the best Liniment on the market. I thought, at the time I was taken down with this trouble, that it would be a week before I could get about, but on applying your Liniment several times during the night, I was about in 48 hours and well in three days." Some German Composers.

In answer to a correspondent "Menestrel" gives a list showing the "creativeness" of some German composers. Franz Abt, according to the figures published, "created 2,610 compositions, of which 1,079 were choruses, 106 duets and 1,134 songs. Johann Sebastian Bach is credited with 1,102 compositions, of which 225 were for the organ and 611 were choruses. Beethoven's compositions are placed at 430; Brahms, 538; Handel, 207; Haydn, 575; Liszt, 955; Mozart, when he was thirty-five years old, had written 626 compositions; Raff, 610; Rubinstein, 550; Schubert, thirty-one years old, 791; Schumann, forty-six years old, 671. When we except Czerny and Diabelli, who wrote for pedagogical purposes, Mozart and Schubert rank highest for prolific work. The statistician did not consider in his list the compositions intended for the stage.

ANTI-JUG BILL PUT ON SHELF.

Prohibition Legislation by Congress Is Not Probable at This Term.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The action of the house judiciary committee in postponing until March 6 further consideration of the various prohibition measures now pending before that committee was a severe blow to the hopes of the cold water advocates. It probably means that no prohibition measure will be passed at this session. It appears the committee is evidently divided on the question of reporting out the bill, but the vote for postponement was 10 to 7.

Mr. Littlefield is dissatisfied with his own bill. While prohibiting shipments of liquor into dry territory, it leaves the gates open for shipment of liquor from Canada, Cuba, Mexico and all foreign territory. Thirsty individuals could still have liquor shipped to them from abroad.

Amendments had been prepared by Mr. Littlefield to cover this defect, but the constitutional question was raised as to whether a ban could be placed upon foreign liquor by one state and its importation permitted into another state.

The whole discussion goes over until March 6. By that time Mr. Littlefield may have another bill in readiness, but the outlook for one to be reported at this session seems hopeless to the anti-saloon people.

NOT WHAT "SHE" SEEMED.

Boy Masqueraded as a "Hello" Girl in Chicago Exchange.

Chicago, Feb. 25.—A dispatch to the Tribune from St. Louis says:

There was consternation among the girls of the Forest exchange of the Bell Telephone company Sunday when it became known that "Helen" Iles, a fellow worker, was a boy in disguise. The secret was brought to light when one of the girls complained to the chief of the exchange, Miss Burns, that "Helen" was not what she seemed.

"Helen" applied for a position five months ago, giving the name of Helen Iles, age 23, of Chicago. A few weeks ago a new operator, whose first name is Margaret, was assigned to the exchange.

"Helen," forgetting his disguise, told Margaret he was a man, and asked her to marry him. Margaret refused, and immediately sought Miss Burns, the result being that "Helen" was discharged from further service.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many a Florida Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Florida readers.

A. Oerting, seaman, of 419 L. street, Pensacola, Fla., tells how to do it. He says: "From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills I can strongly recommend them to anyone in need of a good medicine for the kidneys. Kidney complaint and backache caused me suffering at intervals for years. The first or second attack I did not mind, but as time went by they grew worse and at times laid me up. I could hardly walk and it was a difficult matter to straighten up after stooping, while the kidney secretions were irregular and unnatural. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me. From personal experience I know that this remedy can be depended upon to fulfill the representations made for it."

BOARDERS IN PANIC.

Oil Lamp Exploded, Setting Fire to a House at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 25.—Three persons were seriously burned and twenty others fled to the street in their night clothing early Monday when an oil lamp in the home of John Gishick, a foreigner, exploded, setting fire to the house.

The lamp fell from its fastenings on the wall, showering Mrs. Gishick with ignited oil. She was fatally burned, while her husband and a boarder were severely injured in extinguishing her blazing clothes.

Twenty boarders, sleeping in upstairs rooms, fled, panic-stricken, and a number were slightly injured in the mix-up.

SPECIAL PRECAUTIONS.

Wrecked B. & O. Train Had in Transit $1,000,000 in Cash.

Pittsburg, Feb. 25.—The hurried dispatch of a special train to the scene of Saturday's wreck on the Baltimore and Ohio at Salisbury Junction was explained when it became known that there were over a million dollars in cash aboard the train.

As soon as word of the accident was received special precautions were taken to guard the money.

While the whole train left the rails and a German professor was injured, the money was not damaged.

He owned the large Roden block, the Roden Wholesale Grocery company, large mining interests and several fashionable residences. CRANKY METAL.

Moods and Mystery That Are Embodied in a Piece of Steel.

A cutlery company will make a hundred razors from the same piece of steel by the same process, and part of the razors will be good and part of them bad. It may be fifty of one kind or seventy-five or twenty-five—nobody knows. The maker doesn't know; the buyer doesn't know. Barbers say that even the price doesn't seem to make much difference. You may get a good razor for a quarter or a bad one for $5. And the same razor will get a contrary edge today, so that you can hardly shave with it, and tomorrow, without additional sharpening, it will work like a charm.

One tap will go on a bolt easily and stay there. Another tap will hardly go on at all. A third may be screwed on tight and snug and yet keep coming off in spite of all that can be done.

Sometimes men that work with machines have a premonition of coming disaster, as do the men that sail on the seas or thread the winding paths of the big woods. Nature as well as pieces of mechanism seems able to communicate to man why they are in a calamitous and threatening mood.—Chicago Tribune.

An Astonishing Airship.

In these days of dirigible balloons, airships and aeroplanes the following account of an airship taken from the London Post for Dec. 22, 1709, is of interest:

"Father Bartholomew Laurent says that he has found out an invention by the help of which one may more speedily travel through the air than any other way, either by land or sea, so that one may go 200 miles in twenty-four hours."

The airship which was to accomplish this astonishing feat had at the top "sails wherewith the air is to be divided, which turn as they are directed." There was a rudder to direct the vessel's course, and the body was "formed at both ends scallopwise. In the cavity of each is a pair of bellows, which must be blown when there is no wind."

Two loadstones, some large amber beads and various other items all had some mysterious part to play in this attempt to traverse the air.

This is perhaps the most extraordinary of all flying machines on record.

Unique Petition from Children.

Well, Here is Lord Kelvin's Quaintly Eccentric Definition.

One of the late Lord Kelvin's students at the University of Glasgow writes of some of the old scientist's peculiarities: "To those who attended the natural philosophy class at Glasgow university Lord Kelvin, or, rather, Sir Billy (for to that length our irreverent love of the genial old man would go), is a cherished memory—a memory of a great man who gave 'articulate shape to the thoughts that wander through eternity.' His appeal to our humorous faculties was due partly to some personal peculiarities, partly to the sublimely unconscious use of very familiar objects and extremely colloquial phrases to illustrate his great thoughts on great things. Never blessed with powers of clear enunciation, he had a way of wrestling with certain words and giving them a prolonged rolling intonation that added point to those unintentionally humorous observations which he was ever making and for which, thoughtless yet not wholly unlovable crew that we were, we were ever looking. Let me cite some examples. Lecturing on the nature of a gas one day, Lord Kelvin thus delivered himself: 'Imagine a thousand million students rushing with incredible velocity in one direction and a thousand million students rushing with the same velocity in the opposite direction and meeting. That is a gas.' Doubtless, but the homely simile compelled laughter and at the same time left us both mystified and enlightened.

"But his greatest feat was the playing of a simple tune on a huge trombone. Conceive, if you can, a learned professor of silvered locks and beard, dressed in the black robes of his office and surrounded by scientific instruments, slowly squeezing from a giant trombone some familiar air and you will understand why I have said that Lord Kelvin often made too strong appeal to our sense of the humorous. For himself he was sublimely unconscious of the humorous picture which he presented. He was too intent upon his scientific triumph for the laughter—and it was laughter that literally held both its sides—to reach his ears.

"Lord Kelvin was once in his usual delightfully inconsequent way rambling along and letting his great mind slowly unfold its great thoughts. One of the many subjects on which he touched was the transmission of light from distant worlds. 'Here,' he said, 'I have a calf's foot jelly made by Lady Thomson. Observe the wabbly motion of the jelly [here suiting the word by action]. Gentlemen, for aught we know to the contrary, interstellar space may be one vast calf's foot jelly.'

"He was, as I have said, singularly simple in many of his ways. To successive generations of students he illustrated 'uniform motion in a straight line' in a singularly characteristic fashion. Lame in one leg, he always walked with a most marked limp, yet he illustrated 'uniform motion in a straight line' by hobbling round his rostrum in a circle. I do not believe that he ever knew why his pathetically humorous way of illustrating a simple fact in kinetics made his successive classes 'smile confoundedly loud.'" — Chicago News.

Didn't Seem Fair.

Having finished her afternoon's philanthropic work in the east side tenements, the voluntary helper started for home. Before she had proceeded far, however, she discovered that her purse was gone. So, surmising she had either carelessly mislaid or been robbed of it, she retraced her steps to the tenements. Her search availing nothing, she was about to turn again toward home when a tear stained youth accosted her.

"Say, missus," he sniveled, pointing across the street, where another boy crouched in a hallway to examine something, "if y' 're lookin' fer y' pocketbook, dat kid over dere's got it!"

Acting on this declaration, the lady hurried over and cornered the lad before he was aware of her propinquity. Seeing no chance of escape with the purse and its contents, the boy complied with the lady's demand and handed over.

"Now, my honest lad," she then said, turning to the first boy, who had followed her across, "there's a dollar for pointing out the thief!"

As this boy ran off clutching his reward the second lad squinted hard at the lady.

"Say, missus," he said, "don't I get nothin'?"

"Not a penny!"

"Gee!" he rejoined, in a kind of perplexity. "An' I stole de pocketbook from him!"—Buffalo Times.

NOT MERELY IDLING.

Wherein the Writer Resembled the Man on the Buoy.

"That writer," said a publisher, referring to an author who seemed to be idling away his time, "is in reality trying hard to work, to get his ideas flowing, but he is stuck.

"He said to me himself that he resembled a man who made a bet one summer day at the shore that he would swim out a mile and a half to a certain buoy. The bet was accepted, and the man stripped and plunged in. His friend retired to the hotel to watch his progress from the window.

"From the window with a fieldglass the friend saw the swimmer reach the buoy in due course, draw himself up out of the water and sit down comfortably, with his legs dangling over. So far so good. Evidently he was resting, well pleased with his feat.

"Some minutes passed, and the swimmer had not moved. The watcher returned to his book. But every now and then he looked up, and still the swimmer sat in the same position on the buoy.

"An hour, two hours went by. Still the swimmer remained. A white, slim figure seen against the oncoming dark, he sat on the buoy's edge. His feet dangled in the sea. He seemed to be musing.

"Finally it began to grow quite dark, and, thoroughly alarmed at last, the watcher got a boat and a couple of bargees and rowed out to his friend.

"Out there the mystery was soon explained. The man was stuck fast to the buoy, which had been freshly tarred that morning." — Washington Star.

MEN OF EARLIER AGES.

Were They the Mental Peers of the Men of Today?

The general idea that our enormous advances in science and command over nature serve as demonstrations of our mental superiority to the men of earlier ages is totally unfounded. The evidence of history and of the earliest monuments alike goes to indicate that our intellectual and moral nature has not advanced in any perceptible degree. In the second place, we find that the supposed great mental inferiority of savages is equally unfounded. The more they are sympathetically studied the more they are found to resemble ourselves in their inherent intellectual powers.

Even the so long despised Australian savages, almost the lowest in material progress, yet show by their complex language, their social regulations and often by an innate nobility of character indications of a very similar inner nature to our own. If they possess fewer philosophers and moralists, they are also free from so large a proportion of unbalanced minds—idiots and lunatics—as we possess. On the other hand, we find in the higher Pacific types men who, though savages as regards material progress, are yet generally admitted to be physically, intellectually and morally our equals, if not our superiors. * * * Thirdly, we have no proof whatever that even the men of the stone age were mentally or morally inferior to ourselves.—Alfred Russel Wallace in Fortnightly Review.

Even from the Mountains

Ballard's Snow Liniment is praised for the good it does. A sure cure for rheumatism and all pains. Wright W. Loving, Grand Junction, Colo., writes: "I used Ballard's Snow Liniment last winter for rheumatism and can recommend it as the best Liniment on the market. I thought, at the time I was taken down with this trouble, that it would be a week before I could get about, but on applying your Liniment several times during the night, I was about in 48 hours and well in three days." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Some German Composers.

In answer to a correspondent "Menestrel" gives a list showing the "creativeness" of some German composers. Franz Abt, according to the figures published, "created 2,610 compositions, of which 1,079 were choruses, 106 duets and 1,134 songs. Johann Sebastian Bach is credited with 1,102 compositions, of which 225 were for the organ and 611 were choruses. Beethoven's compositions are placed at 433; Brahms, 538; Handel, 397; Haydn, 575; Liszt, 955; Mozart, when he was thirty-five years old, had written 626 compositions; Raff, 610; Rubinstein, 350; Schubert, thirty-one years old, 791; Schumann, forty-six years old, 671. When we except Czerny and Diabelli, who wrote for pedagogical purposes, Mozart and Schubert rank highest for prolific work. The statistician did not consider in his list the compositions intended for the stage.
